Atheism The Solution? – OpEd

“Atheism does not negate God(s) because it cannot negate something that does not exist”

All Gods forgive sins. Although God is one, but we are calling him differently, like God, Allah, Buddha...So, God forgives all the sins. And it is written in Holy Books, all of them.

Having that in mind, it is now a question: Is there a God? The question is: Why that kind of God is here? Within our civilization.

Absurdity is that contradictio in adiecto in forgiving all sins „when we meet him finally“ shows that religion has established as Marry go round where we can do whatever we want without any responsibility and when we die, He will forgive us. The Holy Books were written by the people who heard and who were listening God’s words, as we have been told, by the people.

It is amazing that Adam and Adem and Maria and Mejrem are the same persons who exists in Holy Bible and Holy Koran, showing that the God is one, if there is a God. Unfortunately, the fact that all the sins will be forgiven by the God when we meet him finally shows that somebody else wrote a Holy Books. Maybe, Devil or Shejtan? No, because neither him exists.

People who wanted to manipulate with other people anywhere in the World wrote those books, having in mind that there is no any material truth that all written in the Holy Books about the God and from God have been said and delivered by God.

Another example is Internet today. All the world religions nowadays support Internet and have their WWW pages, blogs, vlogs, etc...But, nothing about Internet is written in the Holy Books.

So, how we can support something that priests (humans) of all kinds supports, but no roots about that in the Holy Books we can find?

Why God(s) did not send any message warning us about Internet in advance?

Why God(s) do not send ever warnings about forth-coming war(s) to be able to stop them?

Why God(s) are always (as local priests anywhere) on every side in the war anywhere in the World?

Why God(s) do not stop me writing that they do not exist and never existed, except in people minds as a need to manipulate other people of their own?

Why God(s) do not stop spreading all different kind of diseases around the World?

There a million questions against existence of God(s) but defenders of religion are saying that faith should be in our heart and God will finally save us, when we die. While the biggest believers are the biggest thieves as 5 % of human population who hold 99 % of World wealth, and who are getting richer and richer after every war and/or diseases / deaths in the World.

Adjustment of any religion of the World to the modern and post-modern society without any message from the God(s) shows again that all was created by the certain small group of the people that targets bigger group of the people for the purpose of manipulation.

Atheism, as you might think, does not negate God(s). Why, because all written above is the negation of God(s). Atheism cannot negate something that does not exist. Me as the Messenger (one of the Prophets) of Atheism just transfer the voice of the Energy from which all came and to which we will all go back, when we die, and it is not God. It is an Universe.

So, final conclusion about this essay shows that everybody can be a Messenger (one of the Prophets) of any possible God. You just need enough followers behind you to read/listen your message and act accordingly.

Problem is that only 5 % of the people of our civilization is Media literate and they are the ones who manipulate other 95 %. To establish critical observation of the reality within 95 % of the people we need education in media literacy (in today's world, everybody is the message itself) from the primary school, where, after education in primary, secondary and even in undergraduate schooling process, people will, through the open minded education process, change their consciousness and start to think with their own mind and not the (fake) collective one, who is controlled by manipulators of the civilizations, beggars of the mind.
